

Question for March 4, 2004 Quiz 11 PDF

11) An investigator examining the soil nitrogen on sand dunes wants to compare mean nitrogen levels on control and fertilized sites. She also wants to determine if any differences exist in mean nitrogen over the four sampling dates. What technique should be used to determine if there are differences in the mean soil nitrogen levels between treatments, months or any interaction between month and treatment?

